If Gossip We Must

BY "STELLA"

ST. ANDREW'S BALL

You won't get anything but St. Andrew's Ball from me to-day and if there's as much as a whole column I'll be surprised, for I've been awake barely half an hour, I have to be out to tiffin. On Thursday night I was furious at having to stop dancing so early as two o'clock (why did we, by the way? I am sure the band cannot have been exhausted—they only played about six times in the whole evening, and then wouldn't give any encores) but since I seem to have woken up not only very late but in an extremely bad temper, perhaps it is just as well we did not go on till four!

A SASSENACH'S COMMENTS

Still, it was a grand party and I thoroughly enjoyed myself. Next time, though, we shall have to go to the real practices. Is there always so much sitting out to do for the non-dancers? Judging by the crowd in the bar during each reel, you would hardly think it would pay, particularly as the reellers themselves finished with an even greater thirst each time. And do you wonder, after all that dancing and whooping? I have a theory that Scottish dances are so energetic because it's the only way they can keep warm in their Arctic climate; perhaps that explains the prodigious quantities of whisky too!

OUTSTANDING PERSONALITIES

I did my best to remember for you all the frocks on the 'dais, but there were too many. However, I made a note of the Chiefstain in her lovely cloth-of-gold, Lady Peel in white satin, Mrs. McKichan, wife of the Vice-Chiefstain, in a tiered frock of black lace, Mrs. Elliott in apricot, Mrs. Borrett in pale grey, and Mrs. (Doctor) Black just returned from home leave and looking very smart with a black dress as background for her plaid. Earlier at the Chiefstain's dinner party downstairs I had observed and coveted Mrs. Tam Pearce's blue frilled shoulder-bande, Miss Varty's pink lace, Mrs. Taggart's scarlet velvet waistband, Mrs. Dowbiggin's long white train (which seemed to bother her quite a bit when it came to dancing the reels!).

SUBTLE DETAILS

Many of the most attractive dresses gained their effect by some interesting and novel treatment of shoulder straps. I like especially Miss Mellor's blue and silver leaves, Mrs. Redmond's scarlet yoke on a black frock, Mrs. Sedgewick's dark blue velvet straps on a gown of grey, sprinkled with crystal beads, Miss Eileen Stubbings' pleated yellow frills, Mrs. Carnegie's beautiful lace berthe, Mrs. Waddington's fascinating high-necked white velvet cape, Mrs. Compton's sequin strap glittering on her black velvet, and another just back from home leave) Mrs. Macgowan's white frock with the emerald green straps. Then didn't you love Mrs. True's tight white satin sleevelets, and the little black velvet ribbon in Mrs.

Holmes' hair? Miss Balean, too, wore a ribbon round her hair, and I thought it looked very charming and the intriguing mass of Parma violets under Mrs. Elder's epaulettes was very original.

SOME DANCERS

All the young girls were at their best. As a rule I rather dislike semi-grown hair but Miss Elsie Lamont, looked almost ethereal with those soft curls and a pale blue frock, Miss Joan Churchill in almond green was both fresh and dainty, and I adored her high neck. I liked Miss Cairns, too, in royal blue, and Miss Priestley in purple. (She arrived a week or so ago on the Manch and is spending the winter here with her uncle, Mr. Bernard Brown). Another recent arrival, but this time from home leave, was Mrs. Cassidy in a delightful flowered chiffon, and a through traveller was Miss McTague in blue satin. Then of course there was Miss Eve O'Hagan, back from home 3 weeks ago and looking delightful in bamboo green silk, and Miss Audrey Steel who had only returned from England the day before very fascinating in soft larkspur.

Among the dancers I noticed Mrs. Goldman, back from her honeymoon in the appropriate couleur de rose, Mrs. Stanton with a fascinating red bow and red shoulder straps, Mrs. Henry in a fawn velvet coat, over a blue frock (they are shortly leaving the Colony for yet another period in India), Mrs. Alec Mackenzie in white satin, Mrs. Thomas of the Chartered Bank in a design of autumn leaves, and Miss Sylvia Browning in white with a necklet of crystal beads. Miss Hopkins wore a becoming shade of green and Miss Noreen Cooper cleverly brought out her dark colouring by white satin. Among the most energetic of the reellers were Mrs. Hyde Lay in a soft shade of apricot, Mrs. Westlake in yellow, Miss Roger with a frilled skirt and "deck quilt" shoulder bands, and Miss Harris-Walker wearing an intriguing black velvet cape bordered with fur.

THE BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

Have you entered for the open Contract Bridge Tournament? I have been studying the prizes in Sarnet Freres' window and I've set my heart on one of those clocks. In the event of our winning the first prize (ahem!) will the seconds be kind enough to change? Neither of those glass sets will quite go with my colour scheme. And as a matter of fact, I'm not sure that we shan't go all out for the booty. A box of pencils would be just the thing to give somebody for that harassing Christmas present one almost forgets to buy until the shops are shut!

CARTHAGE PASSENGERS

Such a lot of familiar faces on the Carthage! I saw Lady Chatter, widow of Sir Paul Chatter, Mr. Bagram, the broker and Siamese Consul, with his wife, Mr. Henderson, Director of the P.W.D. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, owner of that delightful house along Middle Gap Road, Mr. Whyte Smith, the Crown Solicitor, with his wife, Mr. Bellamy of the Tramway, Mrs. Smalley, wife of Dr. Smalley, Mr. and Mrs. Cutcher of the Dairy Farm, Messrs. McKelvie and Revie of the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock, Mr. and Mrs. Shewan, and Mr. Tate of Messrs. Johnson Stokes and Masters with his bride.

WEDDING BELLS

The Shea-Lee wedding was quite the smartest Chinese function of the kind I have attended for many a long day. The bride, Miss Valda Lee is one of the most charming personalities in the Chinese younger set. The bridesmaids too looked stunning, Mary and Nellie Lee, sisters of the bride, Violet Shea and Margaret Rose. At the reception which was held in the Gloucester Restaurant, a large number of friends of the popular young couple attended to wish them joy and happiness and the one thing that struck me very forcibly was the seriousness of Jimmy Kotwall, the bestman. Some one hinted that he was the next man "due to be caught" but Jimmy denied it most emphatically when I asked him about it.

TENNIS AND CHINESE FROCKS

I should really have written last week about the delightful afternoon I spent at the Chinese Recreation Club when Mr. "Lolly" Goldman and Mrs. Locher defeated Mr. Lo and Mrs. Lytton in the Colony Snaks. It is not the tennis I want to talk about, bright as it was at times. I was frankly more interested in the large number of spectators almost all Chinese and their fascinating dresses against the background of green. I think it is one of the nicest grounds in Hongkong—not that I am any judge, except from the viewpoint of peacefulness and away from the "madding crowd" and I believe this is one of the charms of cricket.

FLOWERED DRESSES

But to return to frocks, Mrs. Lo, the slim Tientsin tennis player who is down on a visit was very chic in plain dark blue with white gloves and the most gorgeous black-fur I've seen. The sisters, Miss Lillian and Miss Fanny Wu I recognised, the former in dark flowered maroon and her younger sister in flowered sea-green with her skirt slit high on one side and very slightly on the other, which is now considered the latest. Both wore white gloves, Mrs. Ng Sze Kwong, the wife of the former Colony Champion, was in red with a short flowered coat, and Mrs. Emmy Shek looked sweet in embroidered azure silk. Two charming girls, obviously sisters, drew many eyes their way—and well they might. Both were dressed alike in soft beige silk and the loveliest short beaver jackets with high but I could never get round to describing them, all sufficient to say that it was all a refreshing change and most enjoyable.

The Rev. P. Jenkins Preaches At St. John's

[Bishop Hall was in Canton over the week-end and, at his special instance, the Rev. P. Jenkins of the Church Missionary Society preached at St. John's Cathedral on Sunday evening.]

"Many were the forms and fashions in which God spoke of old to our fathers by the prophets," (Malachi).

The task assigned to me is to attempt to give you some sort of introduction to two very remarkable men, Amos and Hosea. We must think for a moment of the situation in Israel in their day. For over half a century Israel had suffered cruelly at the hands of Syria. All their land east of Jordan had been taken from them, humiliation had been heaped on humiliation. Then Jeroboam comes to the throne and things change. For one thing Syria had been weakened by the power of Assyria, for another Jeroboam was a military genius. He defeated Syria and restored all the old boundaries to Israel. Then followed a long period of peace and prosperity. Freedom from the fear of invasion gave opportunity for the culture of commerce and arts. A newly rich class sprang into existence, and it was not free from the luxury, conceit, and contempt for others so often found in that class in all ages and in all lands. Justice was sold to the highest bidder. Merchants were dishonest. Peasant farmers were evicted from their lands and reduced to beggary or slavery while their masters passed their days "tolling on ivory divans, sprawling on their couches, crooning to the music of the lute, ... lapping wine by the bowlful, ... with never a thought for the bleeding wounds of the nation." The fine ladies of Israel were worse than their husbands, Amos describes them as "overfed king of Bashan."

Twelve miles south of Jerusalem was the little village of Tekoa. It was the kind of place men would describe as God-forsaken—a dreary wilderness. Yet it seems to have been a suitable rearing ground for an odd kind of sheep prized for their long wool, a valued commodity of the world's markets, and it was Amos's home. He describes himself as a shepherd of these sheep, and also as a dresser of wild fig trees. These trees produced a poor insipid fruit eaten only by the poorest, so that we may reasonably suppose that Amos was not a possessor of this world's goods. He had something far greater—a knowledge of God unsurpassed in his day. He stands out in the history of religion thought as the first of that long and remarkable line, "the writing prophets of Israel."

We Christians rightly regard Jesus Christ as the climax of God's revelation of Himself to the world. But he did not come as a bolt from the blue. He came as S. Paul tells us "in the fullness of time," or as we might say "at the right moment." He took up the threads of prophetic work, and carried it to completion, in that we can not imagine a higher revelation of God than one given in terms of a perfect personality. Thus as we value Him we shall value the work He took for granted, the foundation on which He built.

It is of but little use merely to affirm belief in God, and leave it at that. Everybody must believe in God, that is to say they must believe in a power of some kind behind the Universe. That matters not one iota. What does matter, and matter tremendously, is the kind of God we believe in. Amos's contemporaries believed in God. They had a religion. They were willing to lavish a great part of their wealth on it. But it did not get them very far, for though they worshipped they worshipped the wrong kind of God. They worshipped a "god" satisfied with gorgeous ceremonial and abundant animal sacrifices. It was a worship that could hang together with a callous grinding of the faces of the poor. It was a worship that could find expression in acts of gross sensuality.

Amos breaks in on it all with what must have seemed strange and new doctrine. On their religion he pours scorn. He tells them the result of their mode of life and worship will be the destruction of the nation. He tells them that God, the real God, is not interested in their sacrifices, but that what He demands, since He is a righteous God, is that "justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like a perennial stream."

When we turn to Hosea we find the social and spiritual background very much the same, but the political conditions have changed. Jeroboam is dead. A period of anarchy has set in. Rival generals fight or intrigue for the throne. Within the space of seven years four kings are murdered.

The beginning of the end of Israel as a state has come. Of Hosea's circumstances we know but little—that little is tragic. After his wife, Gomer, had given birth to three children she deserted him to become the mistress of a new lover. Gomer's new lover seems to have tired of her after but a short time, and Hosea discovers that she is being treated as a slave. He takes the price of a slave, thirty shekels of silver, buys her for himself and gives her the opportunity of making a new start. In all this he sees a parable of God's dealings with Israel. I can only stress one point. God is a God of lovingkindness. He uses a very tender word one that expresses the feelings of a devoted husband for his wife. He says, "there, God is like that. God never gives up a man as hopeless. His tender mercies know no limit."

How did Amos, Hosea and the other prophets come by their message to the world? There lies the ultimate problem of all revealed religion. No doubt the particular form their message took was conditioned by the circumstances of their lives and callings. But to them their faith was neither a result of their own reflection nor an inference drawn from a study of the world. They did not fall into the trap of supposing that "man is the measure of all things." Dr. J. Skinner, one of the best modern writers on the prophets, decides that there are three features which differentiate the religious experience of the prophets from the normal communion of a Christian man with God. (1) They are conscious of being intermediaries between God and the nation. The message they deliver in God's name has been addressed not to them personally but to the nation in its corporate capacity. "The Lord took me from the flock: the Lord said to me, Go and prophesy to my people Israel" is the mandate under which every prophet worked. (2) They were endowed with remarkable insight into the providential significance of the political events of the time. For us contemporary history is an enigma. It is a precarious proceeding to attempt to interpret the divine meaning of the events unfolding themselves before our eyes. "God," says Victor Hugo, "makes visible to men His will in events, an obscure text, written in a mysterious language." Men make their translations of it forthwith, hasty translations, full of faults, omissions and misreadings. Very few minds comprehend the divine tongue. The most sagacious, the most clear, the most profound, decipher slowly, and when they arrive with their text, the need has long gone by: there are already twenty translations in the market place. Nothing could be less true of the prophets. They are first on the spot, even before the events and discern the mind of God in what He is about to do. (3) The experience of the prophet contains a sub-conscious element appearing chiefly in the form of visions, which is not characteristic of normal religious life. It is no use to say that the vision is simply a literary device. In any case whatever we may think the claim to have had a vision was taken seriously by the prophet's contemporaries.

Moses is reported to have expressed the wish that all the Lord's people were prophets, and indeed in some measure we must be if we are to grasp their message. The gifts and powers God gave to the prophets in so eminent a degree are in a measure ours too, if it were not so they would have spoken in vain. But they are gifts and powers that may be neglected or cultivated. If we spend sixteen hours a day on work and pleasure and but a few brief minutes, if even that, on the things of the Spirit, shall we complain if these things come to have no meaning for us, or that the eyes of our soul are dull?

During the season of Advent we are specially bidden to think of the "Kingdom." The foundation of the "Kingdom" was in great measure laid by the prophets of Israel. It is a spiritual treasure. It is the pearl of great price. It is something we find and yet something we must buy. Its beauty and wonder may gradually dawn upon us; or its beauty and wonder may flash upon us with irresistible glory. In any case if we would make it our own the price must be paid. The man who found the pearl of Great Price went and sold all that he had and bought it. Many people find their religion unsatisfactory. Is the secret here? They may in a moment of emotion see something of the beauty and wonder of the Kingdom, but they never get to the point of making the necessary surrender. The Kingdom demands the complete capitulation of the central citadel of our self. It means we let God into our life. And God comes in on His own terms—to rule.

SCORES AGAINIn "The Stranger's Return"

Notable in brilliancy of performance and sheer pictorial beauty, "The Stranger's Return," filmed from the new Phil Stong novel of rural life, will open on Wednesday at the Queen's Theatre with Lionel Barrymore and Miriam Hopkins co-starring in the leading roles.

Directed by King Vidor, this M. G. M. production achieves a masterful sweep in dramatic power against a farm background that lends realism to the gripping story action. It was written by the author of "State Fair," and the film transcends the glory of his earlier work in simple, human interest.

Lionel Barrymore is cast as the 35-year-old farmer who refuses to die until his house is in order, and delivers the most compelling characterization of his career. Miss Hopkins, seen as his city-bred, grand-daughter, is superb in her interpretation of a role exacting in its demands.

Vidor scores heavily with the smooth flow of the story and interesting treatment of his subject. Filmed almost entirely out-of-doors, the picture captures the earthiness of the farm and gives

"MURDERS IN THE ZOO"Fine Entertainment
At The Queen's.

Death strikes mysteriously—suddenly—horribly to all those who dare woo favours from the warm, red lips of a beautiful woman in Paramount's thrilling "Murders in the Zoo," which is showing at the Queen's Theatre and is featuring Charlie Ruggles, Lionel Atwill, Kathleen Burke, (the Panther Woman), Randolph Scott, John Lodge, and Gail Patrick.

The Green Mamba, scourge of the jungle, is quite the most insidious killer you've ever seen, and this deadly scourge of the jungle now strikes terror into the heart of a big city, aided and abetted by such deadly creatures as the voracious crocodiles and the bone-crushing python. Jealousy is the motive all the way through. The animals are the symbols of the machinations of the perverted mind of Eric Gorman, big-game collector, who guards his beautiful wife from the attentions of other men. One of his admirers goes to death in the African jungle, the second in the zoo where Charlie Ruggles, the manager's press agent, has arranged a society banquet to raise an endowment fund for the animals. The Green Mamba is found to be at large, the zoo is closed and the city is aroused. The loosed animals, snarling through the zoo's grounds, unwittingly provide the only possible satisfactory conclusion to this gory drama of death upon death. Edward Sutherland, director of "The Kid From Spain," has produced a well-paced picture, full of thrills and action from start to finish, beginning to absorbing finish. Charlie Ruggles provides a grand comedy performance.

"PILGRIMAGE"

Romantic Film
At King's

The widely-herald "Pilgrimage," romantic drama from Fox Film, is now showing at the King's Theatre. It is an adaptation of the popular story of the same name by Ida A. R. Wylie.

Dealing with the innermost emotions of a mother who cannot see her son taken from her by the woman he loves, the story has been reported as one of the most powerful of recent screen dramas. It details the reactions of a devoted woman to the romance of her own son, and the romance of two strangers whose lives are on the verge of ruin through just such selfishness as she herself showed. But she sees her error in the error of another woman who is about to do the same pitiful service for her own son.

The locale of the film goes from the backwoods community in Arkansas to the cosmopolitan atmosphere of New York and Paris. The picture reveals some of to the screen an almost dimensional view of a countryside domain where drama is hidden in the wheat fields.

Franchot Tone, rapidly coming to the front as a new romantic hero, carries the love theme with Miss Hopkins and proves a valuable acquisition to the cast. Stuart Erwin is seen as a bucolic character of both humour and sympathy. Irene Hervey in the part of the young farm wife and the splendid cast includes Beulah Bondi, Grant Mitchell, and Tad Alexander.

GARTER"Brilliant Comedy for Central

An interesting extension of the British and Dominion's production policy is to be noticed in the casting of "Night of the Garter," which is showing at the Central Theatre.

Sydney Howard is the star. But closely following the public demand, Herbert Wilcox, Director of Productions, to British Dominions, has decided that cinema audiences now call for more than one top-line name in each of the pictures they patronize. Accordingly, three B. & D. star personalities have important parts in "Night of the Garter"—Sydney Howard, Winifred Shotter and Elsie Randolph.

Sydney Howard's escapades in "Splinters," "Almost a Divorce," "Up for the Cup," "Mayor's Nest," and "It's a King," have popularized him throughout Great Britain and in most parts of the world. He is, indeed, a comic genius, whose complete mastery of every comedy effect can only be compared with Chaplin's.

Winifred Shotter's association, in ingenuous parts, with the Aldwych Theatre company, London, brought her wide fame and her films "Rookery Nook," "Plunder," "On Approval," "The Chance of a Night Time," "Mischief," "A Night Like This," "The Love Contract," and "Just My Luck," have endeared her to all sections of cinemagoers.

Elsie Randolph is a light comedienne, whose first appearance in a B. & D. production was in Jack Buchanan's picture, "Yes Mr. Brown."

The other casting in "Night of the Garter" shows the same discrimination. Playing the part of Teddy opposite to Winifred Shotter's Gwen is Harold French, one of the most attractive of England's rising young male stars. The brothers Jacks and Austin Melford play respectively the harassed Bunny and the resourceful Kenneth, while the part of the maid, Fish, is taken by Connie Ediss, a character actress of forty years' experience. An actress of the younger school, Marjorie Brooks, plays Bunny Phipp's jealous wife, Barbara.

Interpreted by such a cast, Austin Melford's brilliantly conceived farce could not be otherwise than a comedy of first class order and it is certain to prove a big attraction.

The most elaborate settings achieved for a motion picture. The cast is a large one, involving the appearance of hundreds of extra players.

The featured roles are portrayed by Henrietta Crosman, Heather Angel, Norman Foster and Marian Nixon. Some of filmdom's best-known players are cast in important roles. Among these are Lucille La Verne, Charley Grapewin, Robert Warwick, Louise Carter and Betty Blythe. Others in the cast are Maurice Murphy, Hedda Hopper, Frances Ford, Jay Ward and Frances Rich.

The direction of the story is by John Ford. It was adapted for the screen by Philip Klein and the late Barry Connors. Dudley Nichols provided the dialogue, and William Culler, Sr., directed.

THE REICHSTAG
FIRECommunist's
Sensational Story

Leipzig, Dec. 2.

A sensational story of Communist plans for an armed rebellion if the general strike failed was told by Kaldenbach, the ex-Communist leader at the Reichstag fire trial.

He declared that the Communists' headquarters issued orders to establish contact with the Socialist workers, preparatory to the general strike, and that the proposed Nazi march on Berlin was hindered by the Communists by the erection of barricades.

The strikers were armed as far as possible, but an armed rising was only to follow an attempt to crush the general strike by force.

The witness denied that the Reichstag fire was the signal to the Communists to strike and declared that the Communists had nothing to do with the fire.—Reuter.

MONEY LENDING BUSINESS

(TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG DAILY PRESS.")

Sir,—Will you kindly give me a little space in your valued columns to relate an incident about the money-lending business as practised locally so that those who are entertaining the idea of borrowing money for Christmas may be warned in time.

My friend, X, was the type of man who thinks twice before spending a cent, and then hesitates to spend it. His salary was scarcely enough for his monthly expenses. The sickness of a younger sister put him in an embarrassing financial position. His manager refused an advance; his few valuables were already in "Uncle's" possession for medicines etc., and he had no recourse but to ask a pal to arrange for financial assistance from an Indian money-lender. Now, this friend whom he approached was also in a difficult financial position so it was arranged that one should sign for the loan and the other to sign as guarantor. After making his enquiries the shark (I really can call this particular lender a shark) promised to give $200 on the following conditions:

1. That $10.00 should be refunded immediately for "beer money."

2. That the boys must sign the promissory note without making any alterations in the wording.

3. The amount in the Note to be twice the amount to be handed over.

4. That the interest would be $20.00 per month—and several other conditions.

X was scared of the many unfair conditions and decided not to take the money and it was agreed to postpone the matter indefinitely. Soon, however, under pressure of his circumstances X had to approach the shark again and the deal was clinched. After signing for $400.00 X received his share, $95.00 for which he had to pay $10.00 per month interest.

Very happily, he brought the money home, but as dry earth soaks water, his many unpaid accounts soon took away all the $95 and X was in deeper water than he had been before.

He was excused from paying interest for 5 months, then was gently informed that he and his friend had to sign another Promissory Note for $200.00. X was furious, but the insinuation about seeing his manager soon calmed him down and another note was signed and a fresh burden laid on his shoulders.

Not long after this his friend found a better job in a water-works enterprise in an outport and left X to face the music alone. X invited the lender to his house, and regaled him with all sorts of delicacies but every effort to persuade him not to press him for the friend's share of the interest was in vain. "Your friend is responsible for you and you are responsible for your friend; if he runs away you pay, otherwise your boss—" Then X had to pay $30.00 per month i.e. 40% of his meagre salary! After paying for a few months X had no further inclination to work. His seniors in the office, unaware of his worries reported him as "lazy" and eventually he was fired!

But this was not yet the end of his troubles! Soon he got what he had been expecting—an invitation brought by a uniformed messenger!

The publicity, shame and worries coupled with other matters soon reduced X to what he is now—a physical and mental wreck.

This, I am sure, is not an isolated case. If any one is sceptical of the above, let him take a stroll about town and watch the tramps of money-lenders carrying waiting outside office doors at the end of every month.

FI FA AND IRON GREY WIN THE "DOUBLES"

Liberty Bay's New Record For Mile And Half

(BY "MORNING DEW")

Favourites had a distinctly bad day on Saturday with the result that good dividends were the rule rather than the exception.

Liberty Bay and Iron Grey were the only favourites who were triumphant. The former won the St. Andrew's Stakes over a mile and a half in record time, while the latter, as predicted, had no difficulty in accounting for Swale in the Novices event.

The biggest dividend of the day was paid by Don who won the "B" Class race over a mile in 2.00.3, beating a very good field in one of the most spectacular finishes seen for some time.

Lady Peel's candidate, Lucy Glitters scored a popular win in the Coogee Handicap when she accounted for some of the best Australian ponies in the Colony.

Punters were very badly hit when the favourites for the fourth race, (The Panther and King Salmon) were both beaten by Fi Fa. This was the first leg of the "Doubles" and although the second leg fell to Iron Grey, a hot favourite, the "Doubles" paid $103.

DON'S PRETTY WIN

The betting was somewhat restrained in the opening race, the "Ewo" Handicap where thirteen members of the staff of Jardine's started. The handicap was by weight as well as by distance and from the start it was obvious that the scratch candidate, Mr. Leo Frost on Sunning, had no chance whatever. For the first three quarters of a mile, the ponies with long handicaps looked as though they were going to do it, but just before turning into the straight Mistletoe took the lead, and Mr. H. M. Remedios managed to keep him in front for the rest of the journey. Mr. E. O. Butler, riding Felicity Star, came along beautifully at the end of the race, but could not rob the honours from Mistletoe. Stable Secret (handicap 175 yards) finished third.

THE FIRST UPSET

There were eleven acceptances for the Glasgow Handicap "B" Class, and The Tiger was made favourite with Brechin next in demand. The start saw Valorous facing the grand stand, with Mayflower also in bad position. Meanwhile King's Bounty on the rails and Brechin on the outside made all the running, with Don within a couple of lengths of them and the rest of the field well bunched up. Mayflower could not make up for his bad start, but Valorous gradually made his way through the field. At the head of the home straight, King's Bounty had had enough and faded out of the picture to allow Brechin to take the lead. Before the distance post was reached, however, Don had taken the lead, while The Tiger, Valorous, Daylight Eve, Pride of Tsingtao all drew level with Brechin. From the mile post, Don was challenged by Valorous and Daylight Eve, but held them at bay to win. Valorous finished second, with The Tiger and Pride of Tsingtao dead heating for third place. Daylight Eve and Brechin could not have been more than a head behind the three ponies. The times for the various quarters, it is interesting to note were 29, 58.2, 1.29.2 and 2.00.3.

LIBERTY BAY

Mr. Frost riding Liberty Bay must have felt awfully lonely for the Dunbar crack led all the way home by many lengths. After the first quarter mile, Liberty Bay was three lengths ahead of King's Justice. A length further behind came Charming Star, another length behind was Cossack's Beauty, with Blue Star and Sadko bringing up the rear another three lengths behind. There was really not much change of position during the race, excepting that Liberty Bay, drew further and further ahead as the race progressed. The fight for second place was interesting. Mr. Soares gave Sadko a fast half mile towards the end of the race, and the big chestnut passed the whole field (except the leader) one by one, just getting ahead of King's Justice at the post. Liberty Bay's record time was registered as follows: 29.4, 58.3, 1.28.1, 1.58.4, 2.29.4 and 3.01.2.

FAVOURITES DISAPPOINT

King Salmon and The Panther were joint favourites for the Commie Handicap "B" Division over six furlongs. The Panther got away well, but it was not long before Fi Fa got into the lead, and running comfortably won the race in the excellent time (for him) of 1.32.4. The Panther never looked promising and was a beaten candidate before the straight was reached. King Salmon again disappointed his supporters when he failed to keep up with the field in the early stages of the race. He came along with a big burst of speed towards the end, but could not do better than share second place with Charming Face, a pony which had hitherto been disappointing.

Fi Fa paid his supporters $37.20 for a win.

HOT FAVOURITE UNPLACED

More trouble was in store for those who make it a practice to back favourites, for after the disappointing performances of King Salmon and The Panther, Alexandra Hall went to the post a hot favourite for the five furlongs sprint and was beaten out of a place. When the gate went up followed by Tillicum and these two led into the straight followed by Royal Flush and Solar Star. Tillicum passed Alexandra Hall in the straight and running beautifully remained in front despite a hot challenge from Royal Flush and Solar Star, who dead heated for second place a length and a half behind the winner.

The winner paid $30.40 to his supporters, while those who took tickets on Solar Star for a place received $27.30 for their confidence.

YET ANOTHER UPSET

The two joint favourites for the sixth race, Fortia and City of Brisbane, were both unplaced, and the race fell to two low weighted ponies in Lucy Glitters and Evening Star with Rosy Morn finishing third. City of Brisbane went out to make the running, but Lucy Glitters was sent out after him at once and these two led the field with The Giraffe and Evening Star several lengths behind them and the rest of the field somewhat strung out further back. Lucy Glitters took the lead from the Rock, and at this stage Evening Star passed City of Brisbane and began making up ground on Lucy Peel's pony. The two entered the straight with a gap of three lengths between them and although at one stage it looked as though there was going to be a good race, Lucy Glitters managed to stall off the challenge from Evening Star to win by two lengths. Rosy Morn finished third and City of Brisbane fourth.

Fortia did not seem to like the gate with the result that he was left and while the others were fighting for the lead, she had to make up for lost ground. She gave a good account of herself, but the earlier effort proved costly.

THE NOVICES

There were nine starters in the novices event and Iron Grey (P. F. Botelho) went to the post a red hot favourite. He did not disappoint, winning by three lengths from Jingle, ridden by Mr. Donald Black with Darien (Choy) up finishing third, just ahead of Swale (Pearse).

When the field was sent off Swale was in the lead with Iron Grey in close attendance and the rest of the field well strung out. The two ponies drew ahead by quite a distance, but after entering the straight, Swale had had enough and tired rapidly. Iron Grey, however, kept on to win easily. Jingle (starting for the second time) came along with a very strong finish to take second place, and Darien just managed to beat Swale on the post for third place.

UPSET AGAIN

In a day of upsets, it was appropriate that an outsider should come along and bag the last race. King's Parade won the six furlongs event to oust several well-backed candidates in a field of fourteen. Suckypast and Orlando made the running for the first half mile, but after entering the straight, the rest of the field seemed to close on them. A hundred yards from home King's Parade drew out from the bunch with Partnership close up to him. The two fought out a thrilling finish and King's Parade responded very well to win by a length and a half from Partnership. Cebu was third.

Festival Eve finished the race without a jockey and it was noticed that he was running by himself practically all the way.

During the afternoon a very pleasing selection of music was rendered by the band of the South Wales Borderers and by the pipers of the Scottish Company of the Volunteer Defence Corp.

FOR THE POOR PARKING PLACE

Bazaar at Catholic Cathedral

The annual St. Vincent de Paul Society of the Roman Catholic Cathedral Grounds, Caine, Road, yesterday. That the fête was an immense success was evident by the large crowd that turned up to do their duty to the poor. The stalls were tastefully decorated, and almost everyone who passed them was forced, partly by their "duty" to stop and contribute to the worthy cause. From 3 p.m. the time of the opening till the time of closing which was 11 p.m., the stalls were crowded, and one could see that everybody, young and old, was carrying something in his or her hands—dolls, lace, and embroideries, and judging by the smiles one would gather that they were satisfied.

THE GREAT MOTOR SHOW

Although the great motor exhibition, which is held annually in London, truthfully has been called the most international of all automobile shows, it is but natural that British products generally dominate there. The present, the twenty-seventh repetition of the event, which at the moment of writing is being held at Olympia, forms in this regard no exception, for out of the 400 different types of cars there assembled, 205 were built in Great Britain. Many fine examples of cars from America, Canada, France, Italy, and other countries are on view and serve as a stimulus to our own manufacturers and a useful means of comparison for the intending purchaser, but this article will confine itself to the British section only.

In its comparatively short term of existence the motor car industry in Great Britain has reached surprising dimensions. In the last decade alone production has more than trebled. Exports during the year 1932 rose 68 per cent., above the figure for the preceding year, while in the same period the home trade increased 27 per cent. In the home market the industry now reigns supreme. In 1925 the imports into Great Britain of private cars and chassis from foreign countries amounted to no less than 42,748, whereas the number in 1932 had fallen to a modest 3,403. Undoubtedly the imposition of customs duties on vehicles, has stimulated the home trade considerably, but the constant drop in prices for English cars during the past ten years and the remarkable increase in value for money has nevertheless been the prime factor.

Perhaps the most striking feature at this year's exhibition is the universal increase in automatism. It is as inevitable as it is desirous that the development in car building should take this direction in days when so many people regard the possession of a car as a necessity rather than as a luxury. The man or woman of limited means who runs a car has not always the desire or the opportunity to devote much time to the uninteresting details of driving or the maintaining of their vehicle, and the British manufacturer fully realises this need.

Automatic starting is a sine qua non of all cars, but new methods are introduced. In some of this year's models which will save the driver much worry in this regard. Ignition control also tends to become more automatic—in some cars at Olympia it is indeed entirely automatic—while even expensive models are provided with automatic lubrication in greater or smaller degree. As regards at least one car the lubrication is carried out entirely automatically, while the semi-automatic chassis oiling which is a feature of most of the cars, merely requires the driver to press a plunger to oil most of the minor parts throughout the chassis.

Most important of all simplifying automatons are the numerous devices for easy gear-changing. There are automatic clutch controls which obviate all use of the clutch; self-changing pre-selective gear-boxes; synchro-mesh speed-changers which by approximation of the relative speeds of the wheels, to be meshed practically excludes the possibility of mistakes or noises in gear-changing. Gone are the days when the nervous beginner approached the gears in fear and trembling, invariably missed the critical moment, rattled the gears until his own teeth chattered, and finally stalled his engine at the very moment when it was essential to move smoothly out of a traffic block.

Emergency has called the attention of the British car manufacturer to every possible point where economy in running and upkeep can be effected. The mileage per gallon of fuel and oil is greater than ever, the low mud-guards and flared body and chromium-plated metal parts reduce cleaning to a minimum. At prices under £200 there are no less than

The "Morning Post" records a movement to prevent the spinners from selling at a loss. ## NAZI LEADERS PROMOTED

Berlin, Dec. 2.
Herr Rudolf Hess, Chancellor Hitler's representative in all party affairs and Captain Roehm, Chief-of-Staff of the "Brown Shirts," have been appointed Reich Ministers without a portfolio.—Reuter.

18 different types to choose from, including roomy and comfortable family cars. And all models, be they small runabouts priced at £105 or large luxury cars at more than £3,000, are well ventilated, quiet, safe and efficient, while the general adoption of stream-lining and neat, clean colour-schemes give a spick-and-span appearance with which the most fastidious could not find fault.

It has been quoted as a disadvantage to foreign buyers of British cars that spare parts are difficult to obtain abroad, that right-side steering is unsuitable for most foreign countries, and that the cars are often under-powered for the rough and hilly roads in various parts of the world. As far as the last-named contention is concerned it should be pointed out that nominal horse-power is often confused with brake-horse-power, and that in any case several British manufacturers now produce chassis with an alternative of engine power. To correct any possible difficulty of obtaining spare parts various steps have been taken, among them an insistence on the part of manufacturers that their agents must import spares in proportion to the number of cars they order. With regard to near-side or off-side steering, most British manufacturers have now made provision for optional control.

LONDON FIRE CONSPIRACY

Some Astounding Revelations

London, Dec. 1.
Astounding allegations were made in the course of the hearing to-day at Bow Street Police Court of evidence for the prosecution of Captain Brynmor Eric Miles, the Chief Officer of the London Salvage Corps.

Captain Miles, who appeared after a fortnight's adjournment on bail of £5,000, is charged with conspiring with Leopold Harris, ringleader of the great fire-raising plot, and with others, to pervert the due course of justice. It was alleged to-day that Captain Miles was in the pay of Leopold Harris and that he warned him when trouble was brewing and a trap had been laid.

To-day's hearing revealed how long and carefully the police were investigating the long series of mysterious fire occurrences before effecting any arrests.

IN PAY OF HARRIS

The prosecution alleged that Miles received £25 every month regularly from Harris from 1930 onwards, the payment being the result of a meeting between the two at which Miles is alleged to have mentioned that he could help Harris by shutting his eyes to suspicious circumstances in fires. It was further alleged that when the investigations were started, Miles pretended to be on the side of the insurance companies while giving Harris warning of various pitfalls.

FAKED ACCIDENT RUSE

It was said that he discussed plans with solicitors of different insurance companies for arranging a meeting between the informant, Capsoni, who was scathingly referred to by the judge at the Harris trial, and Harris, so that the conversation should be overheard.

A street accident was faked and Capsoni was taken to a nursing home. Mrs. Capsoni then rang up Harris on the telephone urging him to call and see the invalid.

The ruse failed, it was alleged, because Miles also rang up Harris and warned him not to go, saying that microphones had been installed at the nursing home and that the whole incident was a plot to entrap him.—Reuter.

It is understood that the wharf-coolies who were dismissed as a result of the recent strike assembled at the wharf with the intention of creating trouble with the newly-engaged coolies who were on board the "Kashan." Nothing happened though the wharf was thickly crowded with coolies. The Emergency Squad remained in attendance until the crowds dispersed.

In reply Sir Frederick Sykes said the Government recognized the loyal support received from the Depressed Classes and had done its best to bring about every possible improvement in their condition. ## FUTURE OF NEW-FOUNDLAND

Newspapers Criticise Pending Changes

London, December, 1.
Newspaper comment on the impending changes in Newfoundland emphasises that the initiative throughout comes from the Dominion.

Both Houses of the Newfoundland Parliament have now passed resolutions in favour of a temporary suspension of the Dominion Constitution. The next step will be the presentation to the King of a humble address asking for suspension of the present Letters Patent for the administration of Newfoundland by a Commission of Government on the lines recommended by the recent Royal Commission, which, it is recalled, was appointed by and comprised of nominees of the Governments of Britain, Canada and Newfoundland.

When the necessary legislation to give effect to this request is passed by the British Parliament, six members of the Commission will be appointed by the British Government, three of them being drawn from Newfoundland.

REFORM SCHEME.

According to the Royal Commission's report economic restoration cannot be hoped for in present conditions through a Government subject to local political pressure, and it will be the duty of the Commission of Government to work out and carry through a programme of reforms, not merely to meet the present financial emergency, but to secure the economic development of the island and improve the social conditions of its inhabitants.

When the present difficulties are overcome and the country is again self-supporting, responsible Government will, on a request from the Newfoundland people, be restored.—British Wireless.

BRITISH ACTION APPRECIATED

Speaking for the opposition, Mr. Bradley declared that in such circumstances the Government and opposition must close their ranks.—British Wireless.

MUSSOLINI AND LITVINOFF IN CONFERENCE

Russia Willing To Disarm BUT SHE MUST BE PREPARED AGAINST JAPAN

Rome, December 3.

M. Litvinoff and Sig. Mussolini had their first meeting at noon at the Palazzo Venezia. They conversed for 72 minutes, after which M. Litvinoff emerged animatedly conversing with the Russian Ambassador, seemingly well-pleased.

Sig. Mussolini will pay a return visit to the Russian Embassy this afternoon after which there will be a further meeting at an official banquet given by Sig. Mussolini this evening.

Both sides maintain complete silence with regard to the subject of discussion, but the opinion is crystallising along the lines defined in previous messages.

The Russo-American agreement is held to have radically altered Russia's position in the world and this induced Sig. Mussolini to invite M. Litvinoff to Rome.

It is understood a communiqué will be issued this evening.—Reuter.

U.S.-RUSSIAN AGREEMENT DOES NOT AFFECT ITALIAN INTERESTS

Rome, December 3.

It is believed M. Litvinoff's conversations with Il Duce this morning were of a twofold character, economic and political.

On the economic side it is believed M. Litvinoff assured Il Duce that the agreement he is negotiating with the United States in no way affects Italian interests.

Politically, disarmament was discussed in its broad aspects. It is believed M. Litvinoff confirmed the Soviet's willingness to participate in future disarmament negotiations within, or outside, the Disarmament Conference. He also gave instance of the Soviet's efforts hitherto for disarmament, though he also mentioned the strained Russo-Japanese relations pointing out that with this distraction on the Soviet's Asiatic side it is difficult for her to turn her full attention to Europe.

There is no indication given in regard to Sig. Mussolini's attitude on this matter.—Reuter.

Refuses to give Details Regarding Visit

Rome, Dec. 2.

M. Litvinoff arrived at 7.40 p.m. after a day of sightseeing at Naples. Contrary to expectations Sig. Mussolini was not present at the station, but Sig. Suvitch under the Secretary Foreign Affairs and M. Aloisi, the Turkish Ambassador, met him.

M. Litvinoff was wearing evening dress and drove off to the Russian Embassy.

It is intimated he will make no statement about his visit until its conclusion on Tuesday, but he told Reuter it was a great pleasure to be in Italy where he always liked to spend his holidays.

The Press emphasises that trade relations and disarmament will be the chief subject for discussion.

The Vatican organ, "Osservatore Romano," publishes to-night an article headed, "terrifying details of cannibalism in Russia."—Reuter.

ARRIVAL AT NAPLES

Naples, Dec. 2.

M. Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet Foreign Commissar arrived by the liner Conte De Savoia and was met by all the local authorities, M. Potemkin, the Russian Ambassador at Rome and Signor Abolico, the Italian Ambassador to Moscow.

M. Litvinoff will be entertained at an official luncheon before going to Rome to-night to meet Signor Mussolini.—Reuter.

Rome, Dec. 2.

All attempts to interview M. Litvinoff aboard the Conte De Savoia, were abortive. He declined to make a statement to the Press until he reached Rome.

Italian Press to-day publishes long articles stressing the Italian-Soviet friendship and emphasising Italy's desire to increase her commercial relations with the Soviet and to draw the Soviet into the comity of nations and the Disarmament talks.—Reuter.

COMMERCIAL FAVOURS TO BE SOUGHT

Rome, Dec. 2.

The Soviet Commissar of Foreign Affairs, M. Maxim Litvinoff, who is not expected to arrive here until late to-day, owing to the liner, "Conte De Savoia," being delayed by bad weather, will be received by His Majesty King Victor Emmanuel on Monday.

M. Litvinoff will later give an official dinner to Signor Mussolini at the Russian Embassy, and will attend a reception at the Turkish Embassy.

It is believed that apart from the courtesy side, Signor Mussolini has two main objects in inviting M. Litvinoff to Italy.

Firstly, to remind M. Litvinoff that Italy was the first Power to recognise the Soviet, with whom relations have proceeded more smoothly than between the Soviet and the other Powers. Hence Italy should be specially considered in the appointment of commercial favours.

Secondly, to draw Russia into the Disarmament talk.—Reuter.

"It will be accompanied, I sincerely trust, by a period of peace, progress and prosperity," he added.

"I will carry on encouraged and strengthened by this signal victory over the disruptive elements raised against our Imperial stronghold."

The successful Fianna Fail candidate was Mr. Eamon De Valera, President of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State, who was elected in South Down, one of the border counties.

He did not visit his constituency during the election campaign, mainly on account of the exclusion ban enforced by some Northern Ireland districts.—British Wireless Service.

WILL CANTON JOIN FUKIEN?

Another Rumour Of Secession

SOUTHERN LEADERS WISH TO OUST CHIANG KAI SHEK

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, December 3.

There is a strong rumour that certain leaders in the Southwest are contemplating to establish a second secessionist government in Kwangtung. The rumour, though not surprising at all, originates from the suggestion of a certain high military leader, who proposed the organization of the Southwest Political Council in Canton and at the same time to utilise the Elder Statesmen to form a secessionist government with the whole-hearted support from the provinces of Kwangsi and Kweichow.

WISH TO AVOID CIVIL WAR

With the formation of this government it is hoped, that the Fukien leaders would be induced to join in this new government through political means, so as to start a simultaneous movement to oust General Chiang Kai-shek, Chairman of the Nanking Military Council, and Mr. Wang Ching Wei, President of the Executive Yuan, from Nanking.

According to a report from reliable quarters, the proposed adoption of such measure is the only solution to face the present political development in the Southwest, since Kwangtung is most reluctant to make war with Fukien but would probably be involved in the conflict if hostility started between Fukien and Nanking.

However, many of the Elder Statesmen are of the opinion that the organization of another secessionist government after the formation of the People's Revolutionary Government in Fochow would be of no avail at this time as they believe that it would be most difficult to rally the support from other provinces. It is stated that these politicians proposed that a telegram in the name of the Southwest Political Council should be despatched to Nanking demanding both General Chiang Kai-shek and Mr. Wang Ching Wei to resign their respective posts so as to avoid civil war.

STRONGER U.S. NAVY

Navy Secretary's Demand

Washington, December 2.

An emphatic demand for a stronger United States Navy is made by the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Claude A. Swanson in his annual report.

He declares that the time has come when the United States can no longer afford to lead in Disarmament. "Other Powers have not followed our example with the result that the United States now finds its relative naval strength seriously impaired," he states.

"Our weakened position does not serve the cause of peace, but jeopardizes it, because balanced armament fortifies diplomacy and is an important element for preserving peace and justice, whereas undue weakness invites aggressive war, breeding violation of one's rights," he continues.

"I believe one of the strongest guarantees of peace and justice is an adequate American Navy, a Treaty Navy Second to none."

Mr. Swanson recommends an orderly annual naval building replacement programme which will shortly give the country a Navy up to Treaty limits.

"Even taking into consideration the present building programme the United States would have to construct 101 additional ships in order to reach full Treaty strength by the end of 1938 when the London and Washington Treaties expire."

"As the result of sporadic and costly building programmes which have been carried out so far, all except four of the Navy's destroyers will be over age at the end of this year."—Reuter.

RETROCESSION OF SHANHAIKWAN

Japanese Demand Causes Hitch

Peking, December 2.

A message from Tientsin states that a hitch has arisen over the proposed retrocession of Shanhaikwan.

The report quotes General Yu Hsueh-chung as stating that the Japanese have suddenly demanded that Locheu be included in the territory of Manchukuo.

Locheu being inside the Great Wall, the Chinese delegate at Shanhaikwan refused to entertain the demand, and has returned to Tientsin.

It appears the Japanese want Locheu as a base to which to remove the Japanese troops and the Manchukuo organisations now in Shanhaikwan instead of taking them outside the Great Wall.—Reuter's Pacific Service.

"SPIRIT" RUSH TO AMERICA

For "Liquor Standard" On Tuesday

"DEATH" OF PROHIBITION TO BE CELEBRATED THROUGHOUT U.S.A.

New York, December 3.

Hundreds of thousands of gallons of liquor are being rushed to New York by train and boat in preparation for the return of the "Liquor Standard" on Tuesday. Six thousand places in New York City alone have applied for licenses, two thousand will be licensed for Tuesday but all are expected to blossom out by New Year's eve.

Five department stores have obtained licenses. One has engaged forty "experts," including a Dutch baron, a French count ex-members of the Czarist armies and the French Foreign Legion.

The police are taking elaborate precautions to prevent rowdyism, but most of the would-be celebrants are financially unable to indulge too freely.

A host of armed coastguard vessels are watching the bootleggers "rum-row" outside the twelve mile limit to prevent contraband.

The programme of celebrations includes drinking contests, blindfold contests with bath tubs filled with what is described as "single-water," the executing, burning and drowning of effigies representing prohibition.

U.S. SILVER AGREEMENT

Mr. Warburg Gives His Views

New York, December 3.

In a letter to Mr. Borah, Mr. Warburg declares that in every way he sympathises with the silver agreement between producers and consumers, but opposes bimetalism. He doubts whether the doubling of the price of silver would double the purchasing power of Chinese people, because that depends on goods and services which the Chinese can export.

Mr. Warburg favours a 1/5 metal cover as a legal minimum reserve against the note issue, optionally gold or silver, provided such silver will carry a fixed price.

Mr. Borah in regard to British monetary co-operation and gives the opinion that Britain realises it is her mutual interest with America in establishing international monetary stability, which far outweighs national considerations.—Reuter.

U.S. LIQUOR TRADE

Concessions For Quotas

Washington, Dec. 2.

The United States Department is negotiating for a trade pact with Great Britain whereby American exports of pork and butter to Britain would be reciprocated by liquor.

Similar negotiations are pending with France, the Argentine, Chile and Portugal.

The Administration is represented, authoritatively, as ready to admit 4,000,000 gallons of foreign liquors and wines between December 1, 1933 and February 1, 1934, on allocations to foreign countries in return for trade concessions. Applications have been filed to bring in 12,000,000 gallons.

Diplomats have visited the State Department to learn the quotas.

It is stated that international considerations will not influence the quota system, but it is suggested that the countries entering into trade pacts would receive three times as much business as those nations with whom pacts are not negotiated.—Reuter.

N. R. A. Declared Unconstitutional

Tampa Florida, Dec. 3.

The N.R.A. was declared as "unconstitutional" as far as attempts to control local industry were concerned. Mr. Ackerman, a Federal Judge, declared the act might be valid in inter-state commerce matters, and perhaps as a restricted emergency measure, but the Federal Constitution gave the American Government no authority to invade and reserve the power of the States in the regulation of local industry, even in emergency.—Reuter.

ST. JOSEPH'S V. H. K. CLUB

At Caroline Hill, the Club failed to produce the form of last week and went down to St. Joseph's by five clear goals. Last week they opened out the play from the kick off and took a three clear goals lead over South China. On Saturday they failed badly against St. Joseph's and seldom had the Saints goal in danger. Howe, the Club centre-forward was absent and Fowler came in from the wing. Lowson, the goalkeeper of last week, turning out on the right wing. Boyd was in the pivotal position. Skinner still being on the injured list.
Play opened with the Saints attacking, but a timely clearance by Hynes relieved. The Club forced a fruitless corner. The Saints then practically took charge of the game and took the lead through B. Gosano. A good clearance by S. Strange sent the Club forwards away, but Fowler's shot just missed the upright.
St. Joseph's returned to the attack and Ward snapped up a pass from Fernandes and left Fogwill standing with a rattling shot.
E. Strange tried to get through and worried by Gomes his shooting was wild. The Saints continued to have better of the exchanges, but the Club defence was not beaten again before the interval.
Early in the second half St. Joseph's increased their lead. B. Gosano got clear on the wing and from his centre, Rocha met the ball and gave Fogwill no chance with a fine shot. Being three down the Club rallied, but could make little headway against the Saints middle line ably led by Beltrao. Another fine movement by the Saints forward line gave Gosano a fine chance and he went in to beat Fogwill with a fast low shot.
The Saints continued to press and Ward beat Fogwill to register the Saints fifth and last goal.

Before a record crowd of spectators for the Railway ground, South China and the Navy shared the points in a very keen and exciting game the result being a draw of two goals all. Interest was maintained until the last kick, South China scoring the equaliser just before the final whistle sounded.
Fau Ka Ping, took his old place in the South China goal, having been replaced as leader of the attack by Fung King Cheung.

South China was early defending, but Pau showed his old form and soon cleared his charge. South China then took up the attack and Liddington had a few anxious moments before kicking well to midfield.
The Navy goalkeeper played well and several times got the ball away from a pack of South China players. Hudspeth was then sent away and with only Pau to beat shot the ball against the upright. Robertson taking the ball from the rebound banged the ball in and Pau with a full length dive turned the ball out. Tai Qual Quo went down on the left and Fung King Cheung meeting the centre shot into the net to open the score.

ATHLETIC V. EAST LANCASHIRES

The match on the Hong Kong F. C. ground was marred by fighting between a player of each side, the two being ordered off the field by the referee. The match was played before a poor attendance and ended in favour of the Athletic by four goals to two.
The East Lancashires defence was weak and Ho Ka Keung taking advantage of a slip in the defence went in and beat Fenn with a weak shot, the goalie being out of position and failing to cover the ground in time to reach the ball.
The Lancs were not long before they levelled up. Lawton took a pass from Salmon and shot into the net well out of Chan's reach.
Another mistake by the defence let Ho in again and he sent the ball into Fenn's hands, but much to the surprise of the spectators let the ball drop and it went in to the net.
The East Lancs had hard luck in not levelling up for a scramble close in gave them the advantage, but a free kick for holding relieved. The Athletic increased their lead before the interval through Au King Ming who following up a shot that Fenn had stopped went in to send the ball in the net.
Leading by three to one on resuming, the Athletic went off with a rush. Tang sending in a fast shot that Gorman charged down. Thompson tried a shot from thirty yards, but just cleared the upright. Tang was sent in again and Fenn stopped the ball near the goal line. A scramble followed and a doubt arose among the visiting players and spectators when the whistle was blown and the referee pointed to the centre of the field.
Shortly after the incident leading up to Walkden and the Kwok Chui being ordered off the field took place. It would appear that Walkden was kicked by Kwok and the two struck each other, the referee was forced to order them off.
Ball almost had Chan beaten with a dropping shot but the ball was turned over the bar for a fruitless corner.
Two chances were badly missed by the East Lancs. Sandford had a clear run in and with only Chan to beat, shot wide from ten yards. In the next minute Woods went through, but his shot cleared the bar. Keeping up the pressure the Lancs scored when Sandford sent in a dropping shot, Woods running in charged the goalkeeper with the ball in his hands and the ball went into the net.
Although having the better of the game in the closing minutes, the Lancs failed before the final whistle sounded.

TO RETIRE FROM CRICKET

Dulepsinhji Returning to India

London, Dec. 2.

K. S. Dulepsinhji the well-known All-England cricketer, declares that he has definitely retired from international cricket.

He hopes to go to India in about six months time when he expects to have fully recovered from his serious illness.

He intends to help in the administration of his brother's State, Jamnagar.—Reuter.

Dulepsinhji was selected to tour Australia with D. R. Jardine's eleven, but had a breakdown soon after the selection was made. He then went to Switzerland under doctor's orders.

form in the Police defence. Injuries to Higgins and Turner put the Lincolns off their game and the latter was forced to retire for part of the game. He returned after a few minutes absence and tried the outside right position but was forced to retire for good.

Higgins went outside right after his injury and during the second half played in goal.
Just before the interval the Lincolns had a penalty awarded for a foul by Channings. Ridley took the spot kick and McHardy turned the ball over the bar.
Heath, the goalkeeper, led the attack after the interval.
The Police were having the better of midfield exchanges, but could not finish, the shooting being very wild.
McHardy was in fine fettle between the sticks and turned out several fine scoring shots. He was eventually beaten by Mc Guinness from close range after he had just cleared a shot from the same player. The Police tried hard to level up and were unlucky. Willerton had a good opening, but was a little slow to get home his shot before Higgins made a wonderful clearance.
Hocquard beat the backs and cut in, but McHardy running out forced the winger to shoot wide.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I write to testify to the benefits I have received by taking Phosferine during my training for the 1931 Malayan Weight Lifting Championships.

As I had to reduce some seven or eight pounds off my normal bodyweight in order to enable me to compete in the 5-stone class, I had to go into very strenuous training, and with the help of Phosferine, I not only won the championship of that class, but also the individual championship, and in addition I broke a British Record.

I therefore have no hesitation in recommending Phosferine to any physical culturist or athlete, whether he be in ordinary training or preparing for a competition, as it

RANGERS WIN AT ABERDEEN

For the second week in succession, Tottenham's supporters were disappointed, the Hotspurs this time losing to Manchester City who scored twice without any reply.

The Arsenal did well to beat Liverpool by the odd goal in three, and the fact that they were playing at home no doubt had something to do with the result. They now occupy first place in the league table. Birmingham and Aston Villa played a drawn game on the former's ground, neither side being able to score despite the extra time played.

MAMAK HOCKEY DINNER

First Annual Regale A Success

Members and officials of the twelve teams which compose the Mamak hockey league, held the first banquet of what is hoped to be a series of annual banquets when they gathered at the China Emporium Cafe De Luxe on Saturday night.

The dinner was admirably arranged and great credit is due to Mr. Whyte, the chairman and all those who assisted him for the smooth manner in which the whole affair was carried out.

The first speaker of the evening was the chairman who expressed his pleasure at seeing such a large attendance at the same time stating how much he regretted the absence of Mr. Mamak and Col. E. P. Nosworthy.

"LIKE DANIEL"

Mr. E. W. Hamilton, president of the Mamak Hockey Association, when called upon to speak said that he came totally unprepared and imagined he was going to be like Daniel who said, "Well, if there is any after dinner speaking to be done, thank God it won't be me."

Mr. Hamilton gave a most hilarious outline of the origin of Hockey and then stated that he considered it one of the finest of all games. He praised it especially as a game of skill, not of force, saying that it was good enough to be played for itself alone and not for trophies.

Mr. Hamilton then emphasized important part of the play in the game and told of the urgent need in the colony for a training school for the men who handle the whistle. "Remember always," he said, "when the umpire is right, he is right, but when he is wrong, he is still right."

Surg. Lt. Commander A. E. Phillips, M.B., Ch.B., expressed the gratitude of the Navy for the manner in which they were received by the community of Hong Kong and told his listeners that the Colony was like the old saying about home, "It was the place where one grumbled most and was treated the best."

Mr. P. J. Barlow, was then called upon to speak and also stressed the need for good umpiring and the prompt commencement of games.

TO THE ARTISTS

No record of the banquet would be complete without the mention of the entertainers. Singler Chatland of H.M.S. Bruce, known better as "Ukelele Mike" again proved his right to a prominent place among the naval entertainers, while Morgan and Hartley also received a splendid reception. The music of Vincent and his players was greatly appreciated and a violin solo by Candido Nalus gave pleasant variety.

Among the officials present were Mr. E. W. Hamilton, President of the Mamak Hockey Association, the Rev. W. Watson Rogers, Lt. Comdr. Leigh, R.N., Surg. Comdr. Phillips, R.N., Capt. W. M. Morgan, M.C., Mr. A. A. Dand, Vice-President of the Hockey Association, Mr. F. A. Kemp, Secretary, and Hon. Treasurer respectively of the Hockey Association, and Messrs. P. J. Barlow, A. E. P. Guest and N. A. E. Mackay of the Mamak Committee.

tion, was conspicuous for the Old Girls.

D.G.S.—Miss M. Farrell, A. Chubb, L. Palmer, S. West, J. Wong, C. Royle, J. Broadbridge, D. Chow, J. Anderson, H. Bockler and N. Banker.

D.O.G.A.—Mrs. Rose, Miss G. White and Mrs. Hamson, Misses M. Leung, M. Churn and Miss L. Goetz, Misses D. Banker, I. Gittins, P. Gittins, K. Grose and Miss V. Shea.

GERMAN WINS

The German Club secured their first points in the Mamak Tournament on Saturday when they beat K.I.T.A. by 3 goals to 2.

Pracht and Muller scored for the Germans in the first half, after the interval the Indians equalised when K. Singh and D. Noronha scored.

With only five minutes to play it looked as if the match would be drawn, but in an attack by the German forward line, G. Singh, the goal-keeper, in an attempt to stop a slow shot was robbed of the ball by Muller who netted.

German Club: Ammann, Pracht, May, Dobner, Sommer, Forst, Frank, Muller, Lange, Kerloff and Welsing.

K.I.T.O.—G. Singh, Naidu, T. Singh, S. Khan, S. Singh, G. M. Khan, Noronha, D. Noronha, Sousa, K. Singh and K. Hussan.

LADIES LOSE

After leading by 3 goals to 2 at half-time the "Y" Ladies were beaten by a team from the South Wales Borderers by 5 goals to 4 at King's Park.

RETIREMENT OF REV. W.

WALTON ROGERS

Kowloon To Lose A Tried And Good Friend

(By Our Special Correspondent)

The departure from a community of those whose lives have been a continual struggle for the public good always is a cause of sadness, and many residents of Kowloon, learned with regret yesterday of the resignation of Rev.
W. Walton Rogers, M.A. present pastor of St. Andrew's Church.
The announcement was made during the morning service.

Mr. Rogers has been in active service in the Diocese of Victoria for the past twenty-four years and for the last seven he has been at the helm of the Kowloon church.
He came to the far East in 1909 with the C.M.S. and spent seventeen years preaching the gospel in Canton.

Mr. Rogers is a graduate of Durham University.

When interviewed last evening
Mr. Rogers stated that he was not leaving the Colony until next April and then intended to return home by way of Canada, taking with him his wife and youngest son. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers have two more boys who are at present attending school in England. Mr. Rogers is expecting to have a church at Home, but as yet does not know its exact location and hopes to get a good rest before resuming his duties.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, by their untiring work have done much to maintain the tradition that is so characteristic of St.
Andrew's Church and many of the committees, which have been formed for the benefit of Kowloon residents as a whole will sincerely miss the services of them both.

Rev. Mr. J. R. Higgs, M.A. has been appointed successor to Mr.
Rogers and is expected to arrive in the Colony in April. Mr. Higgs is a young man, thirty-two years of age and a graduate of Dublin University. At present he is a minister in a Coventry Church, but up to a short time ago was stationed in West Africa. He was married recently and will bring his bride with him when he comes to take over his new duties. Although Mr.
Higgs is not known personally out here he is well-known by reputation and leading church authorities in England speak most highly of him.

Residents of Kowloon are losing one tried and true friend, but it is to be hoped that they will be gaining another.
